IELTS (International English Language Testing System) is the world's most popular English language test for non-native speakers. It is used by universities, employers and immigration authorities to assess English proficiency. The test is divided into four sections: Listening, Reading, Writing and Speaking. The total score is out of 100, with each section contributing 25 marks. The test is available in two versions: Academic and General Training. The Academic version is for those who want to study at a university or college, while the General Training version is for those who want to migrate to an English-speaking country. The test is held twice a year in each country.
